A. Executive Summary

The Campus Design Review Team (CDRT) completed its second year under the Institutional Project Review Process of the Campus Master Plan 2017 update. The CDRT reports to UW Bothell Chancellor Bjong Wolf Yeigh and Cascadia President Eric W. Murray through recommendations provided through Gowri Shankar, UW Bothell's Interim Vice-Chancellor Planning & Administration, and to Meagan Walker, Cascadia College's Vice President External Relations & Planning. Events and decisions of the CDRT continue to be recorded online. This Annual Report has been prepared to summarize what campus-impacting projects were reviewed within the period, where these endeavors originated from, and the current statuses of the efforts.

B. 2019-2020 Charge Letter

Five student and faculty members of the CDRT were exchanged this year including the addition of an additional faculty member under the advisement from the UW Bothell Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs. The position of the UW Bothell Assistant Vice Chancellor for Campus and Community Development was vacated during the year and remained open to the end of the year. Cascadia College's second student representative, Sarah Blechner, joined mid-year.

Dear Colleagues,

Thank you for serving on the Cascadia College | University of Washington Bothell Campus Design Review Team (CDRT). Your contributions will impact our campus for generations to come.

The CDRT will report to and advise the Chancellor of UW Bothell and the President of Cascadia College regarding project plans that have a temporary or permanent visual and/or functional impact on the campus and surrounding community setting, including historic resources.

The primary purpose of CDRT is to maximize the functionality and desirable experiential qualities of the campus, its facilities, and setting. Your service is important as we look to strategically align new opportunities with the Campus Master Plan and help plan a cohesive campus into the future.

The team's role is to:

- Participate in review of campus designs and physical master plan;
- On a periodic basis, review project plans for responsiveness to master plan development standards and campus district requirements; and
- Advise the Chancellor and President on project conformance to the Campus Master Plan.

Thank you once again for your engagement with this important work.

Sincerely,

Bjong Wolf Yeigh, Ph.D., F.ASME

Cancelled Sessions for January, May and June 2020.

D. Evolving the CDRT Review Process

During this second year, the two institutions worked under the leadership of Cascadia College’s Meagan Walker and UW Bothell’s Gowri Shankar and Kelly Snyder to further the expedited reviews and recommendations prepared by the Campus Design Review Team for the President and Chancellor of the two institutions. In the February 18th CDRT meeting, Kim Clark outlined a simplified process that involves engaging CDRT chairperson representatives from each institution on the larger projects that have been developed and procured by either the Department of Enterprise Services (DES) for Cascadia College or the Project Delivery Group (PDG) of the University of Washington. Both DES and PDG require documentation to be prepared for the City of Bothell that indicates how the project has responded to applicable Campus Master Plan design principles. The Team as a whole will remain informed of the outcomes; and the CDRT co-chairs will continue to prepare letters of concurrence for the UW Bothell Chancellor and the Cascadia College President. Smaller campus-modifying projects not under review by the larger project process will continue with letter of recommendation to leadership following Campus Master Plan design principle compliance review from the Campus Design Review Team. Accordingly, it is anticipated that the CDRT will not need to meet as frequently as it previously did.

EXHIBIT 1: CDRT Review Process on larger projects:

Revised in February 2020, the institutions adopted streamlining the CDRT review process on larger projects (concurrence only) in order to accommodate the accelerated project delivery pace.

E. The CDRT is Looking Forward to 2020-2021!

The next CDRT meeting is being scheduled for the middle of October 2020, depending on faculty, student, and staff availability. It is anticipated that the forthcoming academic years may include campus master plan review of the development of Phase 4 STEM building exteriors and common interior spaces, campus art work, additional stormwater infrastructure areas, tree canopy replanting, relocated Academic Earth Pits, new siting of the Husky Village ground-lease Student Residence and Dining, and the shifting of transit access to Beardslee Boulevard.
